

World Chefs Without Borders is a humanitarian aid initiative by The World Association of Chefs Societies (WACS). WCWB collaborates with any and all aid agencies and organizations, international, governmental and private. WCWB is an initiative impartial to race, religion, gender, political views and any other dividing concept. It aims at saving lives, alleviating suffering and restoring dignity and basic human rights by providing nutritious food and clean water to the hungry and the malnourished, in response to national as well as international situations. WCWB works with employers to ensure that volunteering chefs will have their jobs secure until their return from the field.

Food Aid Foundation is a non-profit governmental organization (NGO) that is a 'Food Bank' where manufacturers, distributors, wholesaler, retailers, companies or people can donate their unused or unwanted foods which will then be collected and distributed to charitable/welfare homes, volunteer welfare organisation, refugees community, poor families, destitute and soup kitchen.

Dear Esteemed Partners/Suppliers

The above is a short synopsis of the foundations that this event is all about. The School of Hospitality, Tourism and Culinary Arts in KDU University College is proud to be the host of the event entitled "Gastronomique Adventure" in which Master Chefs from around the world who are the main committee members of the World Chefs Association will be in attendance to give you a taste of their Master dishes. We have Chef Willment Leong who is also the chairman of WCWB, Chef Thomas A Gugler, the President of WACS among the team of 11 Master chefs cooking their dishes at KDU on the 6th of August 2017, from 6.00pm to 9.30pm.

All proceeds of the event will be channelled to these 2 foundations to aid those in need.

The organizing Committee of this event is hoping that your esteemed organization or company would be part of this event through:

- a) Sponsorship through kind for ingredients (meats, seafood, perishables like imported vegetables, etc or non-perishables of like flavoured oils, etc)
- b) Sponsorship through cash to help with the rentals and the overall running of this event

All sponsorships could be channelled to Mr Rick Chee, co-founder of Food Aid, Chef Yau Kok Kheong, the Asia representative for WCWB or Mr Bonnie Lopez, the Head of School of Hospitality, Tourism and Culinary Arts, KDU University College.

To raise the funds needed, we are selling coupons towards this event prized at Rm 150.00 per person. You can also contact the persons stated above on how you could purchase these coupons. If you are not able to attend this glamorous event, you can also make a donation towards these foundations.
